

Love Them Both Garden Host Partner Info

The Love Them Both Garden is a Mother's Day outreach of Louisiana Right to Life (LARTL) that supports pregnant women and new moms with practical items, encouragement, and a reminder that they are not alone. Partner organizations help provide the space and community support to connect donors with moms in need, display the Love Them Both Garden, and provide an easy return site for gifts.

Who Can Be a Host Partner?

- Host Partners can be churches, schools, ministries, coffeeshops, restaurants, local businesses, shops, and professional offices.
- All host sites must be approved by LARTL and willing to display the Love Them Both Garden and encourage donor participation within their community.

What is a Host Partner's Role?

Display the Love Them Both Garden in a visible and accessible location:

- Encourage members, customers, employees, or guests to adopt a mom.
- Promote the garden through announcements, email, signage, and/or social media.
- Collect donated items by the deadline.
- Return all collected gifts to LARTL as instructed.

How does the garden display work?

- LARTL provides flower tags and display.
- Each flower tag represents one mom and lists her specific wishlist items.
- Donors take a tag, purchase the listed items, and return them with the tag attached.
- The flower tag must remain attached to the outside of the gift for proper tracking.

What happens after collection?

- Host Partners notify LARTL when collection is complete or by the May 2nd deadline.
- Gifts are transferred to LARTL for sorting and preparation.
- LARTL coordinates distribution to our community partners that help moms partner organizations.
- Moms receive their gifts before Mother's Day through the community partner they receive services from.
